Ease pier rules, old pilings to go

A county-wide zoning and sub-division ordinance, including regulation of pier construction along the seawall, was unanimously adopted by the board of supervisors Monday.

Sole amendment was on the section regarding piers and was drafted by K.T. Breland, local contractor specializing in that field, after a public hearing on the entire ordinance attracted only half a dozen people last month.

The motion was by Dolph Kellar of Beat 2, seconded by H.C. Dean of Beat 1.

The new law requires all beachfront property owners to remove within 90 days all old pier pilings and debris now standing. Otherwise it will be cleared by the county and the owners charged accordingly.

Rather than limiting construction outward from the end of the pier, piers along the beach may start not less than 30 feet from the seawall at a height not less than 11 feet from the original ground level, except for approaches, boat landings and swimming platforms. They must be on 18-foot concrete pilings planted not less than six feet deep.

Not less than No. 2 grade lumber is required on all new piers, except for owners having salvaged materials from previous piers. Bolting of stringers is forbidden in construction of the 11-foot height of the pier. All scrap materials from construction must be hauled away and old pilings removed from the area before a pier is completed.

Only one pier may be built at the head of any public street. Maintenance of all installation is mandatory. Construction features apply the length of the seawall from Cedar Point to

Bishop dedicates Sy Rosenthal gym

Sy Rosenthal, one-time baseball great with the Boston Red Sox and now a paraplegic patient at the Veterans Hospital in Roxbury, Mass., was made an honorary Roman Catholic bishop for the day Sunday at the dedication of the new Sy Rosenthal Gymnasium at the Divine Word Seminary.

The action by Bishop Joseph Brunini of Natchez-Jackson diocese, came after Rosenthal appointed the bishop an honorary rabbi. In reciprocity the bishop pulled off his zucchetto and placed it on Rosenthal's head, declaring the former out-fielder was now a "bishop for a day." Rosenthal wore the zucchetto for the remainder of the afternoon.

The dedication ceremony climaxed over a year's effort by Rosenthal and his Negro priest friend, Rev. Charles Burns, to build a gymnasium in memory of his only son, Irvin (Buddy) Rosenthal. Young Rosenthal was killed during the 1943 invasion of New Britain.

Rev. Burns was also determined to make the building a memorial to Sy Rosenthal, the athlete who was forced to spend his life in a wheel chair as the result of being paralyzed when his ship, the U.S.S. Minotomah, struck a mine off the French coast during the invasion of Normandy. Rosenthal enlisted after his son's death even though he was over age at the time.

Rosenthal summed up his feelings by telling the gathering, "I have no use for brotherhood weeks, for to my mind, brotherhood should be in the heart of men and should be practiced 365 days a year."

Rev. John W. Bowman, provincial superior of the Divine Word Missionaries' Southern Province, and Rev. John Ganser, rector, St. Augustine's Seminary, assisted Bishop

Camelot SJA theme, Travirca, Gex rule

King James N. Travirca and his queen, Mrs. Gerald Gex, reigned over Camelot, the 20th annual Carnival Ball, presented Friday night by St. Joseph's Carnival Club in the city's auditorium.

The stage and auditorium depicted the hall of King Arthur's Knights of the Round Table. Red and gold drapery, flags and emblems of the Knights were placed at the foot of the stage.

Hike county workers', hold Beat 3 claims

A 25-cent hike in the county workers' pay was voted by the board of supervisors Monday.

H.C. Dean of Beat 1 moved to fix their pay at $1.25 an hour after H.C. Mathews of Beat 5, board president, suggested some hike for the county workers.

Supervisors themselves voted a $1.25 an hour raise, going into the $5,250 a year category because the county's assessment is now over $20 million.

They used to get $4,500 annually. They also voted $25 more monthly to Mrs. V.J. Pizzo, county clerk.

On Dean's motion the board directed Clerk Marie Quintel to hold for payment all Beat 3 claims until the board has claimed other county funds now reported by the March 1 deadline.

They beat over $3,000 of Beat 3 claims, $10,000 to the county and $21,000 to the state and federal governments.

Quintel said she expected the February tax collection and March gas tax would speed claims payment.

Application was approved for a 10-year tax exemption for Arthur Miller on his new trailer-truck, he said.

The State Agricultural and Mechanical Board for final action.

Gravel bids were accepted from Colvin Bros. of Waveland.

Even the seats have locks in Chevrolets

We put automatic latches on all our folding seat-backs to keep them from tipping forward should you ever stop suddenly. The seat sits upright until you hit a bump.

Additional items we put into the '67 Chevrolet: handy pushbutton release for the seat belts, an ash tray that glides in and out on ball bearings, a 4-speaker stereo tape system you can add, not to mention noticeable improvements in the way the car rides and handles. Go to your dealer's. Drive a new Chevrolet, get a free sample of

Alan Romanoff, Linda Smith, Clara Verbergh, David Campbell, Linda Roy, Betty Partridge, Karl Blomquist, Carol Sanford, Ken Harrington, Ann Perkins, Randy Tracy, Jean Peltman, Roscoe Barlett, Jessica Schneider and Barbara Birch.

At Day High

Honor society enrolls twenty

Donald Caldwell, principal, Bay High School, initiated 20 new members to the National Honor Society last Monday in the library of Bay Senior High School. An audience of about 50 parents and friends witnessed the event.

Society president Freddie Braland told of the meaning behind the organization and introduced the guest speaker, Rev. Keith Towler of Gulfport. Rev. Towler, pastor, Calvary

Methodist Church, in a address to the group, sponsored by Mrs. W.W. Clifton, of the occasion. He told the students that the honor society is not just a list of names, but a group of people who are committed to high standards of scholarship and character.

At their names were called, each of the twenty new members stepped forward and were inducted into the society by Caldwell with the actual moment of their acceptance being marked by the lighting of a candle, symbolic of the light of knowledge.

We hear that Ronnie Reed has become the newest "man about town".

A list of new members included P.M. and K.M., B.T. and M.C. and J.V. and B.F. Who is the pretty young lady who made a grand entrance last Friday at the Bay High gym? She was named in a previous column. And who was her shipwrecked boy friend? Little James Brown and his aggregation furnished music on Saturday for the big St. Stanislaus dance. . . and we're told it was quite a party, wasn't it?

Is it true that Bob who has acquired her driver's license? Mary Beth has the chicken in her foot, but she didn't let that minor thing keep her at home last Friday night.

Albert Klingensmith is a much too healthy to be needing medicine. . . to that couldn't possibly be the reason he spends so much time around Waveland Drug store, hummm?

Charlie Brown, Edna Baurga, Stanley Wolman, Charlotte Price and Diana Hunter were among the many who were home for mid-semester holidays last week.

Newcomb student, Lawrence de Montau, appears more glamorous each weekend as he arrives home from his routine to visit his parents.

Amos Ward flew, wingman of course, back to Ole Miss. Tuesday, after spending a week-end break with his family.

Ashley Scott Seymour celebrated his 20th birthday on Saturday, Jan. 20, at a party hosted by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Seymour, at the home of his 12th birthday celebration was Mary Ramey, Mary Gaynor, Robert Williams and Earl Rogers. His sister, Kim, was also in attendance.

Jackie Kingdon is away from school, but she's home for a visit.

Lovely Emma is home from her vacation in the States.

Summer home here, was recently pictured on the ceiling of The Times-Picayune as a model in one of the larger Crescent City carnival balls.

Casa Grosvenor called her girl, Debbie Kucharsky, on Saturday and received the happy news that her mother is seriously ill. Casa is due a birthday party having at his home on Jan. 28th.
